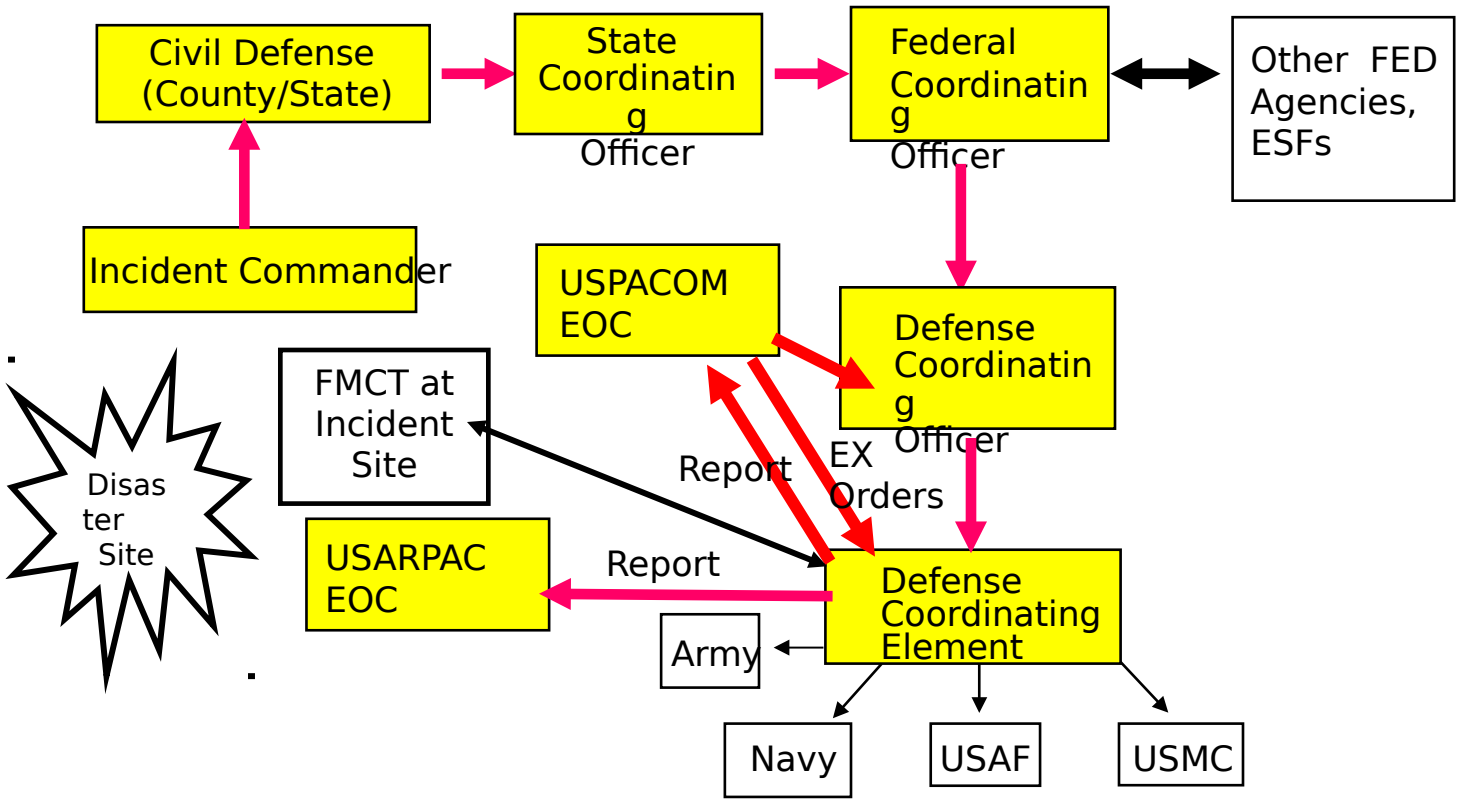
(Presidential Disaster Declaration)



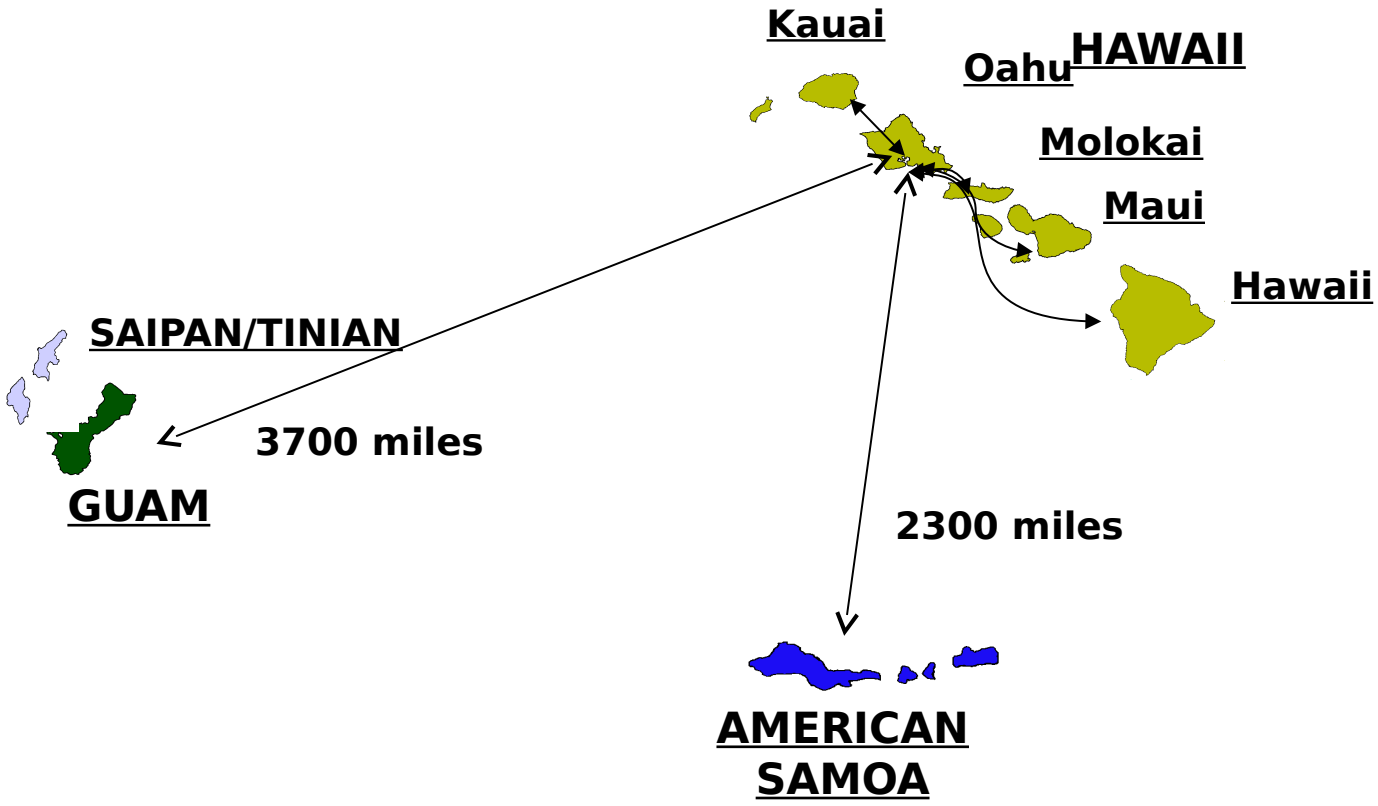
(PRE-EVENT) PRE-DECLARATION ACTIVATION OF FMCT/ EOC

Man Made

• Where the Quick Reaction Force (QRF) and the FMCT (for C2) have been activated prior to a suspected terrorist attack, the 196th EOC will be activated in order to monitor the situation for the Bde Cdr and make recommendations on relief operations and activation of the second FMCT (if required). NOTE: The FMCT works directly for USARPAC, until which time it is de-activated or upon receipt of a presidential declaration of disaster.

• The Brigade Commander may elect to activate the EOC based on the overall threat level, and credible indicators that a terrorist attack is likely. In this situation, the Bde S2 would provide situational updates to the Cdr daily at 0900hrs and as the situation develops or changes.

Potential off island FMCT deployments



PRE-EVENT (PRE-DECLARATION) ACTIVATION OF EOC

Natural Disaster

- The first decision point for activating the EOC or establishing the DCE is storm identification West of the 140 longitude with a projected track in a direction that makes landfall within our AOR likely.
- The Bde commander will determine specific manning requirements from the Bde Staff (EOC/DCE) and whether or not to maintain 24 hour operations.
- Key personnel from the S2 and the S3/MSCA section begin tracking the storm.
- The message center begins monitoring communications networks (USARPAC EOC, etc), and conducting operational checks on all equipment.
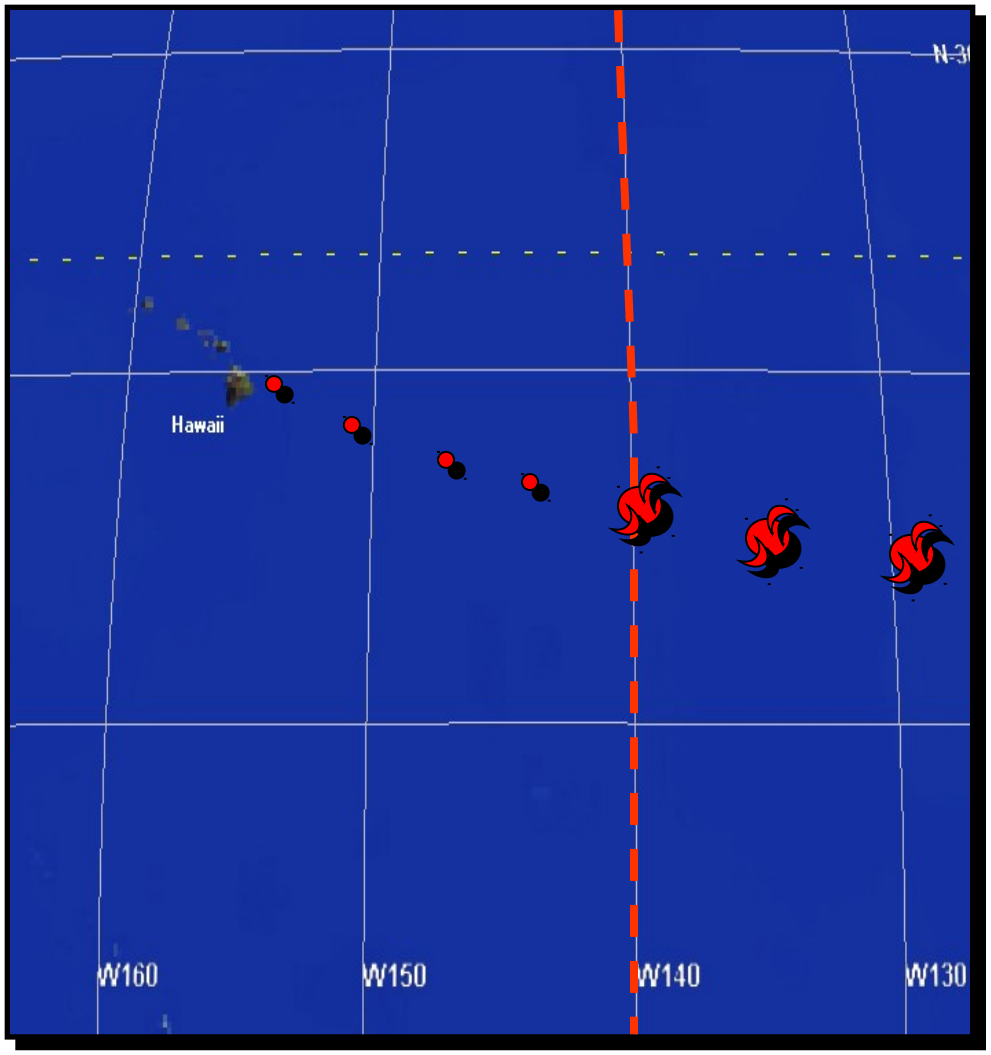
- The staff will begin conducting



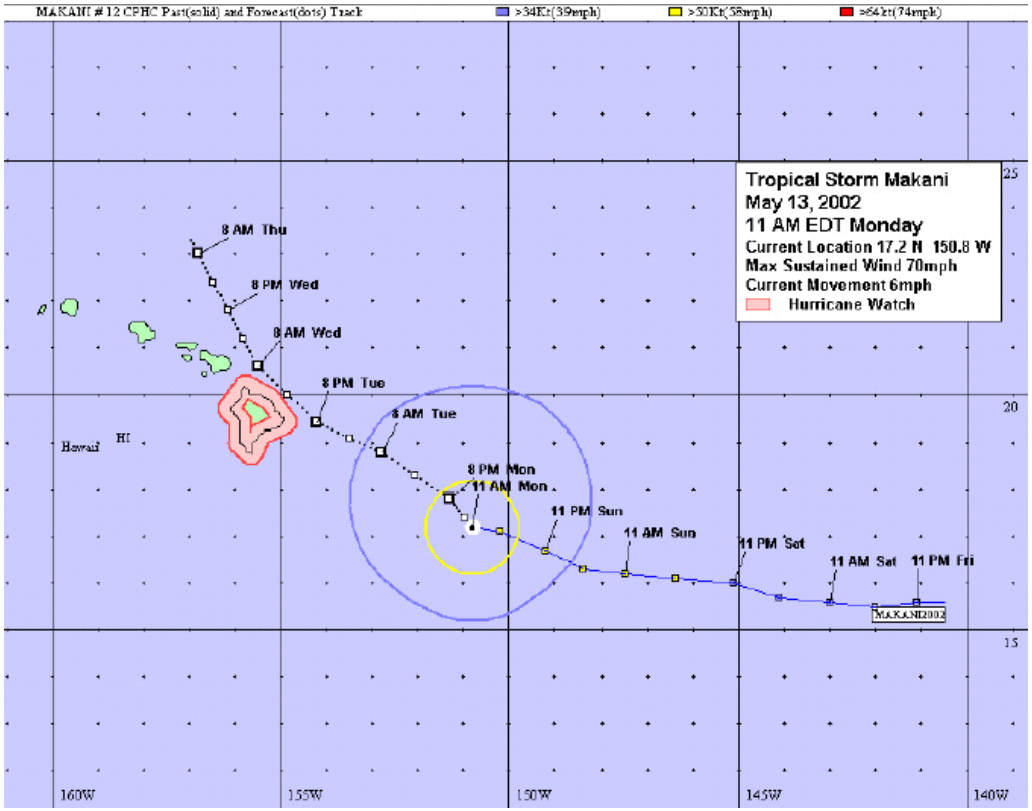
PRE-EVENT (PRE-DECLARATION) ACTIVATION OF EOC / DCE

Natural Disaster

- When a Hurricane Watch is declared, the Cdr will make a decision on personnel manning within the EOC/DCE during storm passage. Important considerations include: storm impact to the island of Oahu and the support plan for 196th Infantry Brigade families.

- Additionally (at FEMA's request, with approval from JDOMS), the Bde may be directed to activate the DCE prior to landfall.

- Additionally, FEMA may request a DCE representative in the ROC, in Oakland, CA.



PRE-DECLARATION (IMMEDIATE RESPONSE) DEPLOYMENT OF LNOs

FMCT Training Responsibilities

• The MSCA operations section will have overall training and readiness oversight responsibility of each of the FMCTs. The brigade will assist in developing FMCT training exercises and is responsible for the collective training plan for the brigade MSCA mission.

• Exercises will be planned and coordinated by each Battalion (for internal FMCT training exercises) and by the MSCA Operations Section (for DCE exercises, to include full scale exercises utilizing the FMCTs).

• Independent of DCE exercises, each FMCT will train loading and movement of their personnel and equipment during an annual load-out exercise (to be identified on Battalion training calendars). The scope of these exercises will include a deployment to an airfield, prepare equipment for movement, and deployment to a neighboring island. The goal will be to link this to a 93rd CST training exercise, where the FMCT can link-up with a local first responder who has been identified as an Incident Commander. Less intensive training potentially entails a pallet building exercise with the Air Force Movement Control Team. The Brigade MSCA Operations section will assist the Battalions with the design of these exercises and will have oversight of each FMCTs training and readiness.

• When an internal FMCT exercise is planned, both FMCT elements will formulate their training objectives, design an exercise (in coordination

CST Training

• Training assistance qualifications. All personnel who provide assistance to a CST will take the first three courses outlined in the table below. The brigade sponsors the EPC course annually. All new personnel will attend this course. The other two required courses are self-paced and available on-line. Each battalion will identify two personnel, with at least two years of retain-ability or as determined by the BDE Commander, to attend the other five courses.
